

US JCI Senate Friendship Award

Description:

This award was announced July 8, 2005 by the Nebraska JCI Senate.

Background Information:

Nebraska has long been in awe of spouses of senators who have helped significantly benefit of the US JCI Senate organization. Because there hasn't been an award for many years, these individuals have gone unrecognized.

Qualifications:

Nominee is a non-senate spouse (wife or husband) of a senator who received their Senatorship five (5) or more years prior to the nomination. This is to ensure that the senator has been active in the state, region or national organization.

Nominees must be submitted by a member of the US JCI Senate organization.

Nominees will be submitted based on their contribution to his/her state, region or national organizations. Nominations will be reviewed by the State President, or designee.

One nomination from each state will be forwarded to the Region Vice President per year.

The Region Vice President or designee will review the nominations from all states in their region and forward one (1) or two (2) representative nominations from his/her Region to the US National JCI Senate President for consideration.

The US National JCI Senate President will review a maximum of 20 nominations (potential of 2 from each region) prior to each gathering of the US JCI Senate organization. (Fall BOD, Winter BOD, and the National Convention). The Senate President will select a maximum of three (3) recipients to be announced at the Fall BOD meeting, a maximum of three (3) at the Winter BOD and a maximum of 4 at the National Convention. There can be only one Friendship Award winner from each region per year. These numbers are firm. If fewer recipients are selected than allowed during a given time period, they are "lost" and cannot be carried over to the next time period.

Selections by the US National JCI President (or designee) are final.

Nominees who do not receive the national recognition may be re-submitted in the future.

Nomination deadlines from RVPs to the National President are:

August 21 for recognition at the Fall Board Meeting.

December 11 for recognition at the Mid-Year Winter Board Meeting.

May 18 for recognition at the National Convention.

The National President will send a copy of the winning applications to the NE Friendship Award Plaque Chairperson.
